SPEAKERS – Our trainers for the training in Perugia (27-28 September 2017)

Prof. Giovanni Ziccardi

Professor at the University of Milan, lawyer and publicist.

He teaches "Juridical Computer science" at the University of Milan; he also teaches “computer crime” at the Master in Right of the new technologies at the University in Bologna.

His latest jobs are on the electronic resistance ("Resistance, Liberation Technology and Human Rights in the Digital Age", Springer 2012), on the ‘checked’ society ("Internet, control and liberty", Rafael Cortina 2015), on the expressions of hate ("The hate online", Rafael Cortina 2016) and on the digital death ("The Digital Book of the Death", UTET 2017). He has published several scientific articles in Italy, Europe and Japan and monographs with the most important national and international publishers. He also directs a scientific magazine, "Cyberspace and Right"; he collaborates with "Il Mulino", "Doppiozero", "il Fatto Quotidiano”, “il Corriere della Sera” and “l’Enciclopedia Italiana Treccani”.

Gabriella B. Klein

Vice-president of Key & Key Communications.

She is vice-president of Key & Key Communications, a non-profit association, that aims to occupy about intercultural communication, migration, difference, discrimination and integration, with particular attention to the institutional context.

She is also the scientific Coordinator of different projects financed by the UE about the public and intercultural communication.

Her most recent project faces the communicative construction of the racism and the xenophobia (Radar - Regulating AntiDiscrimination and AntiRacism Fundamental Rights and Citizenship Programme JUST/2013/FRAC/AG /6271). She is the Coordinator of European project "Let Me Learn® Consultant". She is also involved in the vocational sector for adults. She has already been teacher of Linguistics at the University of Perugia and of Sociolinguistic at the University of Naples.

Some of her publications are : Klein, Gabriella B. (ed.): BRIDGE-IT Guidelines for Trainers. Key & Key Communications, 2012; Klein, Gabriella B./Caruana, Sandro (eds.): Intercultural Communication in Bureaucratic-Institutional Contexts, Guerra Edizioni, 2008; Klein, Gabriella B. et al., SPICES GUIDELINES. A training methodology for intercultural communication in institutional settings. Key & Key Communications, 2007.

Koffi M. Dossou

Graphic advertiser and visual advisor, trainer in communication.

He is the president and co-founder of Key & Key Communications.
He also is the owner of the Key & Key Productions, an agency of advertising communication. He holds laboratories and seminars about visual communication for public and private corporate bodies and he has great experience in organizing international courses financed by the UE.

He is partner and scientific coordinator of several European projects about interpersonal and intercultural communication. The last project in which he took part was about the communication of hate: Radar - Regulating AntiDiscrimination and AntiRacism (Fundamental Rights and Citizenship Programme (JUST/2013/FRAC/AG /6271), where he has developed a methodology to analyze the communicative mechanisms of the construction of racism and xenophobia.

Alessandra Coppola

National Coordinator of the No Hate Speech Movement in Italy.

Currently She is the national Coordinator of the National No Hate Speech Movement of the COE. She slaso is recorded trainer Jump-TOY and she is part of the Pool of Trainers of the Forum Nazionale, advisor of Es-Com for Erasmus+, Contact Point for the juvenile European Mobility in ASSOEURO.

She is president of Apex - Agency of Integrated Promotion for the Citizens in Europe, europroject manager, facilitator and international juvenile trainer.

Experienced in human rights and in count the hate speech online and offline, juvenile politics, non formal education, inclusion of migrant and refugees, dynamics of group, share and active citizen and dialogue structured European.